

GP Pregnancy Shared Care

GP Pregnancy Shared Care is a unique way to continue the care that you are already enjoying:

If you plan to give birth in a public hospital, here's how your GP and Hospital can share the care of you and your baby:

- ✓ You can see your own GP or a GP in your area for most of your antenatal visits
- ✓ You know your GP - they know your medical history
- ✓ Appointment times with your GP are often much more convenient than at a Hospital - with usually much shorter waiting times for appointments
- ✓ After your delivery, your postnatal care is provided by your GP, ensuring continuity of care
- ✓ Your GP offers comprehensive continuity of care for your whole family as they grow

Simply speak to your GP today pregnancy

gp SHARED CARE
together with your gp

✓ your pregnancy ✓ your birth ✓ your GP gppaustralia.org.au

Your GP can be with you throughout your pregnancy

If you're planning to give birth in a public hospital - your GP and hospital can share the care of you and your baby

GP Pregnancy Shared Care is a unique way to continue the care that you are already enjoying:

- ✓ You can see your own GP or a GP in your area for most of your antenatal visits
- ✓ You know your GP - they know your medical history
- ✓ Appointment times with your GP are often much more convenient than at a Hospital - with usually much shorter waiting times for appointments
- ✓ After your delivery, your postnatal care is provided by your GP, ensuring continuity of care
- ✓ Your GP offers comprehensive continuity of care for your whole family as they grow

pregnancy
gp SHARED CARE
together with your gp

✓ your pregnancy ✓ your birth ✓ your GP gppaustralia.org.au